Mark A. Armitage (MI)

Mark Armitage is the Executive Director & General Counsel of the Michigan Attorney Discipline Board, the adjudicative arm of the Michigan Supreme Court for lawyer discipline. He is a graduate of Albion College and of the University of Detroit Mercy School of Law. Prior to working in the field of attorney regulation, he clerked for Judge John H. Shepherd of the Michigan Court of Appeals and engaged in a broad and general private practice.

Armitage is a past president of NOBC and, in that office, initiated a strategic agenda to address administrative issues, provide greater value to members, and focus the board on substantive matters, solving the 40-year-old organization's problems with staffing and continuity by appointing and tasking committee with search and recommendation duties and personally finalizing the hiring of the first firm to provide the group with comprehensive meeting planning, fiscal and overall administrative support. He also served as the principal drafter of NOBC's written comment on the work of the ABA Ethics 2000 task force, and has served on many programs, task forces, and panels since joining NOBC in 1994.

Armitage has lectured in law schools, at conferences, and at continuing legal education seminars on legal ethics, and has taught Professional Responsibility at Michigan law schools. He has also served on the boards of various civic and community organizations, and on committees, councils and sections of the State Bar of Michigan, the American Bar Association, and the National Council of Lawyer Disciplinary Boards (NCLDB). He is a fellow of the Michigan and American Bar Foundations.
